

FRIDAY BROWN

Friday Brown is a girl of many talents—a witty and intelligent conversationalist, Friday plays guitar, writes poetry, composes songs, and sings folk, blues, pop and standards with equal ability. Nineteen-year-old Friday was born in Manchester and was studying to become an art teacher when she joined up with a fellow student to sing in clubs near the school.

After this she decided that her heart was really in music, since then she has delighted audiences all over England with her charm and talent.
